

Above: the beams in the entrance hall came from the local church of San Miguel, and the threshing floor was brought back from Portugal. Below and opposite: stone saws and Indonesian kalengo-wood screens by Jérôme Abel Seguin add a sculptural element to the main sala

